

Classes Offered:

Beginning Guitar – This class is for beginning level guitar players. You will learn how to play some simple songs for worship based on your skill level. It's best for participants to bring their own instrument, although there will be two or three spare guitars on hand.

Conducting – It's so much more than just waving your arms! Learn the language of conducting – patterns, expression, and coordination. Learn what it takes to create a musical work of art from what's printed in a musical score.

Dulcimer – We're continuing our exploration of stringed instruments by learning all about the dulcimer this summer! Learn the origins of this mountain instrument and learn a lot about playing it in one short week. Instruments provided.

Handbells – In this class you will learn how to play handbells and participate in our closing worship on Saturday. Those with all skill levels are encouraged to sign up!

Intermediate Guitar – This class is for guitar players with at least the basic skills already under their belts. Participants must bring their own instrument for this class.

Mime – This class offers an exciting opportunity to express the deep meaning of lyrical music through interpretive expression and the art of performance, acting out the words without the use of speech. Please bring a white shirt and black bottoms for the end-of-week performance.

Organ – Hands on instruction will be given to organ students in a small group lesson environment. Students should have some prior knowledge of keyboard or piano technique.
